

Image-level AUROC: reference comparison on shared MVTec categories

Protocols are not equivalent: papers train on the full official normal-image set (200+ images); ours uses the competition protocol (100 normal + 30 defect images, on-site few-shot transfer). Same dataset, different training-data scale — shown for reference, not a like-for-like comparison.